F. A. MAREK RESIGNS, E. G. SPAULDING IS APPOINTED

Change in Superintendent of Building Made by Council Result of Resignation

THE resignation of Frank A. Marek as superintendent of building for the city of Glendale was accepted with regret last night by the city council which appointed as his successor, E. G. Spaulding of 249 South Glendale avenue.

Ill health is believed to be the reason for Mr. Marek's desire to retire. Illness overcame him a number of months ago and since that time he has been unable to regain his health. Today he is sick in bed at his home, 212 North Verdugo road.

Because of Mr. Marek's "long and faithful service with the city," the council last night expressed its appreciation of his work and voted him two weeks' vacation with full pay.

His resignation came as a complete surprise to employees of the building department, who had not been informed of his intention to retire.

Mr. Spaulding has had fifteen years' experience in building and is a specialist in heavy construction work.

He will take office officially on March 15, when Mr. Marek's resignation will take effect, but, owing to Mr. Marek's illness, will begin his duties immediately.

Sees City Growth

Mr. Marek has been in the employ of the city for a number of years. He was first in the forestry department, then took charge of the building department. He has seen the city make its remarkable growth in construction work and, of course, took his part in it through his official connection with the municipality.

Mr. Spaulding is declared to be well fitted to take charge of the work being left by Mr. Marek. He has had many years in building work.

Wedding Anniversaries Celebrated by Class

A business and social meeting of the Lydia class of the First Presbyterian church was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. A. Newton, 521 North Jackson street.

The house was decorated in yellow and white wedding bells and acacia blossoms, the wedding bells being on the tenth wedding anniversaries of Mrs. H. M. Lennox and Mrs. H. L. Brown, members of the class. A number of games in keeping with the occasion were played. The color scheme of yellow and white was also used in the refreshments. Large angel cakes, each fitted with ten candles, were presented to Mrs. Lennox and Mrs. Brown, who cut and served them.

Cerritos Association to Present Program

The regular meeting of the Certos Avenue Parent-Teacher association, of which Mrs. E. L. Adams is resident, will be preceded by a so-lunch hour and refreshments at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the school building. The program includes group singing by members of the third grade, "Wee Willie Winkle" and "The Surprise"; recitation.

North Wind," by John Beylick; group singing, "Pussy Willow" and "Baby Land." Mrs. Denzmore of Ellettsboro will be the speaker of the afternoon and will give an address on the "Adolescent Period."

Commander Reeves Announces His Staff

Forty-nine generals and one private is an ideal organization for an army corps in retirement according to Captain W. H. Reeves, who has een elected commander of the new local post of Spanish-American War veterans. This morning he announced the following appointments to his staff: Adjutant, Frank E. Peters; quartermaster, George D.

harness, chaplain, Col. J. D. Fraser, historian, Irving H. Oliver; surgeon, Dr. William C. Mabry; sergeant-major, Capt. W. A. Loving; quartermaster sergeant, S. A. Warren; color sergeants, Capt. W. B. Kelly and

CLUB MEETING POSTPONED
The meeting of the Semi-monthly

The meeting of the Semi-monthly Club which was to take place today at the home of Mrs. H. M. Doll of 27 South Louise street, has been postponed owing to illness of some of the members. Among the reported ill, are Mrs. Charles Rudell of Vine street, Miss Smits of South Glendale avenue. The club will not meet again until the close of the Lenten season.

OUCH! LAME BACK, RUB LUMBAGO OR BACKACHE AWAY
 Kidneys cause backache? No! Listen! Your backache is caused by lumbago, sciatica, or a strain, and the quickest relief is soothing, penetrating St. Jacobs Oil. Rub it right on your painful back, and instantly the soreness, stiffness and lameness disappears. Don't stay crippled! Get a small trial bottle of St. Jacobs Oil from your druggist and limber up. A moment after it is applied you'll wonder what became of the backache or lumbago pain.

Rub old, honest St. Jacobs Oil whenever you have sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism or sprains, as it is absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.—Advertisement.

HARRY GIRARD HAS PLEA FOR MUSIC PROGRAM HERE

First of Series of Articles on Question Is Submitted by Local Man to Public

The following, which explains itself, is from Harry Girard, well-known local musician:
Editor The Evening News—I submit herewith a prospectus and outline in detail for the Annual Glendale
May Music Festival and the Children's Choral Crusade.

Part One—Community Music. Of all the arts and sciences where will you find one that is more inspiring, more uplifting, more intellectual, and more essential than music?

Now a straight question to the parents of Glendale. Where would you rather have your child spend his or her leisure time? In the dance halls, the pool halls, on the street corners; or at home, practicing a violin, a cornet, the piano, or perhaps lifting up a childish voice in song?

Can there be any argument? No.
The child who takes up the study of music seriously, in addition to his or her regular educational course, creates and lives in an atmosphere undeniably better in every way. They acquire the home habit, the study habit, the habit of mental concentration, that is of great assistance in all other branches of educational development.

Divided Into Grades
Give music today the same consideration that is given to reading, writing, and arithmetic. Divide a thorough course of study into grades from one to eight, with annual promotion. Start the students at the age of seven, on any orchestral or band instrument. At the end of the eighth year graduate them into a children's community band or orchestra.

Now allow and take away eighty per cent from the present school consensus of Glendale, for unavoidable causes, such as: no musical ear, lack of musical intelligence, no application, change of residence to another city, etc., etc. The remaining twenty per cent would give you approximately seven hundred trained musicians at the end of the eighth year, available for community work. The adoption of this system would give the city of Glendale the largest boys' band and girls' orchestra in the world.

Symphonic Material
Now, just another glimpse into the future. Take these seven hundred young musicians and give them three years under an efficient director in orchestral work; and you would have symphonic material at the average age of 18.

This outline is practical in its application in the development and study of all orchestral and band instruments, with the possible exception of the oboe and French horn, and these are only necessary in symphonic work. All study would necessarily be in class. And, basing cost on an average class of fifty, the average cost would be ten cents for an hour lesson. Twenty cents for two weekly hour lessons; totaling $7 per year for each student. Should every registered pupil in our schools take the musical course, the total yearly cost would be around $25,000.
This is the only way to establish real community music on a permanent basis. The school feeds the community orchestra and band, both of which, in turn, feed the symphony.

In this way you obtain an ever-flowing stream of fresh talent and musical enthusiasm. An ever-living monument to the organization, the co-operation, the musical ability of our city; and the result will be a musical community so far in advance of all others, that it would be rightly and justly entitled to the position which would be attained, namely:
Glendale, the Musical Center of the World.

Predicts Chief Objection Argument—The chief objection to this plan will be that because it is new and has never been tried: It never can be.

The next opposition will come from your present school organization, and this can be easily answered as follows: If each and every individual in the present system had been so fortunate as to have attended school where this system was in operation, they would give the idea their unanimous approval and fullest co-operation, for they would all be musicians themselves. Some opposition from the several musical federations will also have to be overcome; as the basic principle of these federations is not civic. It is state and national, and should Glendale dare to do any-

Locals and Personals

Miss Evelyn Clark of Edendale spent Monday in Glendale visiting with friends.

Jack Thomas of East Raleigh street is up after a week's siege of the "flu."

John L. Circle has sold his place at 449 West California street and is now located at 328 North Isabel street.

Mrs. L. G. Sherman of 310 West Lexington drive has been confined to her home for several days with the gripe.

Mrs. H. A. Leonard of Los Angeles was the Sunday guest of her sister, Mrs. J. Marple of 215 West Palmer avenue.

Herbert G. Henning of 203 East
Elk avenue is able to be up following several days' confinement with la grippe.

Mrs. Enos Nichols of Los Angeles, former old time resident of this city,
was recently in Glendale with friends and former neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bacon and their daughter, Miss Winifred Bacon, of 1321 South San Fernando road are confined at their home by illness.

Mrs. A. D. Dunlop of 203 West
Burchett street entertained as her guests at luncheon yesterday Mrs.
Dean S. Phillips and children, Mary and Stanley.

Mrs. C. D. Cady of 624 South
Central avenue had as her Sunday guests Mr. and Mrs. William Bailey of Spokane, Washington, and Mr.
and Mrs. Roy Swiler and family of Culver City.

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. LeDuc are moving tomorrow from 125 1/2 North Brand boulevard to their new home at 522 West Alexander street, where they will be at home to their friends in a few days.

Word was received here yesterday
announcing the death of the mother and sister of Miss Ruth T. Doolittle, supervisor at the California Academy of Music, who was rushing to their bedside at Indianapolis.

Seems strange, but it's the well kept child that's oftenest spoiled.

thing original and place herself as an individual city in the spot-light, it might incur the jealousy and envy of Hutchinson, Kan., or New Canaan, Conn., and thereby cause no end of trouble to the musical trust, which is organized and established to prevent such original civic movements from succeeding. But, fortunately, the thirty-odd thousand citizens of the fastest growing city in the world, may figure that "Charity begins at home."

Sees Political Opposition
The last and perhaps most serious opposition will be purely political.
The professional politician is at all times opposed to any scheme or proposition that might possibly bring about complete harmony in civic and fraternal organizations; also in de-mominational beliefs. For, alas, the politician lives on discord and division, contest and strife. And it is a well-known fact that harmony in a community makes poor pickings for a political pocket-book.

My next article will deal with the "Children's Choral Crusade." An annual event that can be made so successful that it will pay for this musical education of our children, as well as give the city of Glendale a million dollars' worth of legitimate and dignified advertising annually.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Los Angeles a Reg'lar Town
California Has THE Climate
Chance for Committeemen
Covering the Glendale Field
By Gil A. Cowan

LOS ANGELES is getting to be a regular town. Who would ever have thought that six downtown stores would turn up and endanger the lives of a score or more?

Or who could believe that a Standard Oil cash car would be held up and $82,000 in coin and checks taken?

Indeed, the metropolitan newspapers have no trouble in keeping the tempo at fever pitch.

Outside of the Arbutke case, the Obenchain trial, the Taylor mystery, the Pacific Electric bus line and a few other regular stories, they will have to look around for some more international subject to discuss in place of Princess Mary for she will be a "dead one" from now on—unless the viscount chokes her.

Maybe our own little American Maidlike McCormick will get plenty of publicity for looking lovely at Max Oser. He might rate a discount, instead of a viscount.

Some of our eastern friends, who read the storm dispatches in The Glendale Evening News yesterday, must have thought Glendale was heaven—even with its present epidemic of colds, etc.

Uprooted trees, wires down, snow,
ice, sleet slush and everything else
only partially describes the demoralization said to exist in the northern part of the middle west.

It mentioned the fact that interurban service between Freeport and Rockford, Ill., had been discontinued. That's right in the region where I enjoyed younger days and used to pack papers over snow drifts to homes where the women folks did not venture out for weeks at a time.

Contrast this—you Californians who have seen nothing other than your native state—and you will know why all we easterners have become westerners and intend to stay.
There is no argument about it. When it comes to climate, California has everything to be desired.

An opportunity is offered Glendale members of the Chamber of Commerce to present constructive criticism and genuine ideas for civic betterment at the forum meeting this Thursday night.

Unlike the last session, there will be no meal to pay for and session starts at 7:30, thereby giving everyone an opportunity to get there, whether they work in Los Angeles or Watts.

Included in the invitation to attend this meeting is a card inviting each person to elect themselves to some committee. If we had our way about it, there would be a classification such as Keeping Everybody Happy, or Los Angeles Liaison, or Having Your Own Way.

There is too much work connected with a Hotel or Public Utilities committee. Isn't that right, Mr.
Rhoades?

More local news on the front page of this paper than any other in southern California!

That is the sense of a remark heard so often that one actually has to believe it.

Certainly, a wide field is covered in an entertaining way by the columns of The Glendale Evening News.
But most remarkable of all are the advertising columns. Both in display and classified. The Glendale Evening News leads any southern California sheet on a comparative basis—without resorting to special editions, weak excuses, vampire solicitors, or the gentle art of blackmail.
The reason Glendale merchants patronize the columns of this paper is because it covers the Glendale field both in the matter of news and circulation.

Nothing much funnier than watching the face of a man trying to listen politely to a speaker he doesn't like and whose speech he disagrees with.

BUS COMPETITION EXCITES ELECTRIC RAIL OWNERS

Convention at Indianapolis
Is First Time Trackless
Carriers Are Considered

Representatives of more than eight hundred electric railways will participate.

This is the first time in the history of the Electric Railway association that the question of trackless transportation has been made a major subject on the programme of its annual meetings.

"The field of mass transportation doubtless will continue to be left largely to electric railway operation," said Robert I. Todd, president of the association. "Nevertheless, we should determine how far the bus can be successfully employed as a feeder to electric lines, to supplement rush-hour service and to act in other ways as an auxiliary to the fundamental rail system."

"One Co-ordinated System"

It should be plain that the association believes that one co-ordinated transportation system should have charge of the traffic in each community and should be free to develop the physical agencies best suited for the service desired. The irresponsible and piratical jitney certainly has no place in such a progressive plan."

Investigation of transportation methods in London and other foreign cities where busses are in operation in conjunction with electric cars proves the motor bus cannot supplant street railway systems in the larger cities. C. D. Emmons, president of the United Railways & Electric company of Baltimore, declared.

Mr. Emmons, who uses both motor busses and electric cars on his Baltimore system, recently returned from an extended European trip.

Other conclusions reached by Mr. Emmons as a result of his trip were as follows:

"Satisfactory transportation systems at a minimum cost can be obtained by American cities only by placing the control of all city transportation agencies in the hands of one management."

"English transportation systems, with the exception of the London Underground and London General Omnibus company, are very much out of date."

"Citizens of London, Birmingham, Liverpool, Glasgow and Edinburgh think that there should be only one transportation system in each city, whether operated by a private company or the municipality itself."

"One of the outstanding facts developed by Mr. Emmons' investigation was that all local transportation in London is operated under the zone system and that each ride costs, in American money, from three to forty-eight cents. Collection of fares under the zone system, he said, causes long delays. He also found that owing to congested population about three times the number of persons are served in this country."

"Utilization of motor busses as feeders to interurban lines will mean increased development of territory served," Harry Reid, president of the Interstate Public Service company, declared.

Close Nominations for Glendale Elks

About 600 members of the Glendale Lodge of Elks were present at last night's regular weekly meeting, which marked the closing of nominations for elective officers for the ensuing year. Nominations were closed with the following members as candidates:

Exalted ruler, Arthur H. Dibbern; esteemed leading knight, James A. Appfel; esteemed loyal knight, Earl Patterson; esteemed lecturing knight, C. A. Dockery; tiler, J. W. Headlee; treasurer, Herman Nelson and A. R. Eastman; trustee for three-year period, J. E. Wimmer.

The election will take place at next Monday night's meeting.

Thirteen new members were initiated at last night's gathering, the ceremonies being conducted by the officers of Ventura lodge, No. 1439, which is known as the "baby lodge" of the Elk herd.

A large delegation of members from the "Bean Eaters" club accompanied their officers on the trip to this city, as most of them were formerly members of the local lodge.

An announcement was made during the meeting by Jack Hearnshaw, chairman of the entertainment committee, to the effect that St. Patrick's day dance will be given in the clubrooms of the lodge on Saturday evening, March 18. The affair will be known as the "Green Ball."

Following the business session and initiation the members were entertained by a number of Los Angeles stars, after which they adjourned to the Jinks hall for the usual "midnight luncheon."

Glendale Heights View Wins Buyers, Declared

"Nearly every one who goes up there buys," remarked Realtor Guy E. Wilson of 226 South Brand boulevard this morning commenting upon the sale already of seventy-six lots in the first division and thirty-five lots in the second division of Glendale Heights.

This tract is located on the slope of the foothills in the southeast portion of the city. According to Mr. Wilson, it commands a view of the entire community and nearly every city in the entire San Fernando Valley. He says, also, that it is possible to see through Verdugo Canyon to La Crescenta and Montrose.

Southern Gateway to Glendale Weekly Business Review

Property in South Section Moves Fast, Says R. DeNormandie

Arthur Campbell, prominent Glendale realtor, has an active branch office at 1801 South Brand boulevard in charge of R. DeNormandie, who is familiar in values and well posted as to the real estate listed in southern Glendale. The office has been opened for eighteen months with the present manager there for the last six months. He was formerly connected with a Los Angeles bank. Besides the general real estate business, rentals are attended to and Hartford fire insurance written for a large clientele. Mr. DeNormandie declares that "property in southern Glendale is moving faster than it ever has been before."

Much credit for unloosening the light estate, which has been tied up in the courts for years, must be given Mr. Campbell and he reports that this close-in residential property is being bought up quickly by the shrewd buyers who foresee the future of southern Glendale.

BLACKSMITH SHOP IS SOLD

The blacksmith shop at 413 West Los Feliz road has been sold by William Miller to J. A. Malch of 414 Fernando court. Mr. Miller is remaining there several weeks in order to give assistance to his successor. Mr. Malch has had considerable experience with blacksmith work both with the Los Angeles Railway company and with the Moreland Truck company.

ARRIVE FROM COLORADO

New arrivals in Southern Glendale from Glenwood Springs, Colorado, are Mrs. G. W. Cox, who has joined her husband at 1425 South Central avenue, and their daughter, Mrs. E. B. Everett. Mr. Cox is associated with his son, G. Wiley Cox of 1531 South Central avenue at 1516 South San Fernando road in the operation of the Southern Glendale Dry Goods Store.

C. F. TOMPKINS BUSY

C. F. Tompkins, who recently opened his drug store at 1740 South San Fernando road, says that he has been too busy to be bothered with anything else except sales. He seems to be very well satisfied with business conditions and is a booster for his neighborhood and the city generally.

VISITORS AT AUTO RACES

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Gabel and their two sons, "Eddie" and Russell motored to the races at the Speedway Park Sunday. On account of the rain, the family were not much impressed. The race was halted and will be run next Sunday.

MOTOR TO SIERRA MADRE

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Best of 1317 South Central avenue motored to Sierra Madre Sunday accompanied by Mr. Best's sister, Mrs. W. P. Cutting of Long Beach, who spent the week-end with them.

BUSINESS GETTING BETTER

New Service Station Offers Oil Special At Attractive Price

The J. V. Zimmerman Service station at 900 South San Fernando Road, established but three months, has built up an enviable patronage among discerning motorists. "We aim to give our best efforts in behalf of customers with honest goods at reasonable prices," says Mr. Zimmerman in outlining his policy. At his station you will find Gilmore and Richfield gas, both known for their high quality, while auto accessories, oils and tires complete the line.

"In order to acquaint our friends and neighbors with our high-class goods we have arranged for a special on a guaranteed pure Pennsylvanian lubricating oil," says Mr. Zimmerman. "Besides giving an attractive price, the cans are free."

"We have purchased the lot at the corner of Garfield and San Fernando Road because we believed that the business chances here were equal to any in southern California and that Glendale is an ideal city for homes. It is our aim to help build a bigger and better city and especially our own immediate neighborhood. We hope to build a substantial business among our friends and neighbors, as well as the passing public—and then hold it."

HEY! WATCH YOUR WATCH

H. G. Ross of 1522 South San Fernando road is a "regular hold-up man" according to his next door neighbor, C. L. Brenkman. He says every time a man comes into his neighbor's store, Mr. Ross gets his watch. Mr. Ross, however, says that's what he's there for. He is a watch repairer. He states that he takes pains to give the watch back in better shape than before.

NEW PLANS ARE COMING

The plan service of the Bentley-Schoeneman Lumber company is to be augmented shortly by the addition of a number of plans from the Southern Pine association, according to W. R. Letton. He stated yesterday that these plans would be available for local builders and architects in about ten days. Among the features will be several new styles of shingle roofs.

LOS ANGELES VISITORS

Among the business folk of Southern Glendale who were in Los Angeles yesterday afternoon were A. F. Barrett of the Triangle filling station, 1700 South San Fernando road; L. S. Lipson of 1510 South San Bernardino road; William Miller of 413 West Los Feliz road; J. S. Andrew of the Glendale Grill, 1413 1/2 South San Fernando road.

FRED FRY HAS BIRTHDAY

A seventy-third birthday did not interfere with the health of Fred Fry of 1017 Melrose street. Said birthday was observed Saturday. On Monday morning he walked from Lexington drive to 1413 South San Fernando road, the South Glendale Variety Store, which is operated by his son-in-law, B. V. Brasher.

FOUND OIL FIRE WAS OUT

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Satow of 1513 South San Fernando road motored to Whittier Sunday to visit the oil fire which they found extinguished.

South Glendale Dry Goods Store Shows Some Late Arrivals

The great demand for percales and cretonnes indicate that many women are now making their own house-dresses, according to G. W. Cox of the South Glendale Dry Goods store at 1510 South San Fernando road. He has just opened a shipment of madras corded shirtings which the men of the community will find "dandy" when their wives or mothers get them made up.

In addition to the general line of dry goods and notions, which includes women's, children's and men's furnishings, work shoes and children's shoes are considered quite an attraction for the residents of the vicinity. A spring and summer stock is now being received and more being added daily as the patrons express their demands for certain goods.

Mrs. F. B. Cox has just returned from a trip east and will be able to tell her many acquaintances all the latest in women's wear. Both herself and husband are getting acquainted rapidly with the neighboring folk of the gateway's section of the city of Glendale.

OLIVE OIL IS SPECIALTY

Glendale people who use olive oil and like the pure product which is imported from Italy will find that P. L. Cast of 1245 South San Fernando road handles this health-giving food in great quantities. While he runs a grocery store where fresh edibles may be obtained, the specialty which has made his store popular throughout the city is the unequalled olive oil.

Mr. Cast is an olive oil connoisseur and he will have none other than the best. Sufferers from disease which require the internal oil baths will find his store to be the next best place to the importers.

RAIN STOPS CONSTRUCTION

Rain and moisture soaked ground has delayed the erection of the new filling station on the northeast corner of Los Feliz and San Fernando roads of the Puente Oil company according to its manager, Z. D. Merriken. He says the construction work will be started as soon as the ground can be rolled and properly treated so that autos stopping for service won't sink up to their hubs in the moist earth.

GOOD FOR GRANDCHILDREN

A dollar's worth of toys recently were given to Mrs. Frances Gaede of 1513-A South San Fernando road for turning in the best four line verse concerning C. L. Brenkman's store at 1524 South San Fernando road. Did she play with them? No, she gave them to her grandchildren. The contest was judged by disinterested traveling salesmen from Los Angeles.

W. R. LETTON ON A TRIP

W. R. Letton, estimator for the Bentley-Schoeneman Lumber company, 460 West Los Feliz road, motored with a party of friends from Tulare to Devil's Gate Dam Sunday.

Nazimova in Ibsen Play Glendale Film

The duty of every woman to fit herself for occupying some useful position in life, and the certainty that otherwise she will serve merely as a plaything in a toy-house, is the theme of a play which is based Ibsen's "A Doll's House." The Russian actress, and whose film version of which made for United Artists Corporation, is the supreme attraction at the Glendale Theatre, with the great Nazimova herself in the star role.

The picture is one that has a direct and distinct appeal to every woman and every girl, and might also be seen to great advantage by a lot of husbands and fathers, as well as potential husbands.

The moral in "A Doll's House," if it may be called such, has been said to stand out as the strongest lesson ever taught through the medium of the drama. And Ibsen, the Norwegian playwright, whose works have become popular in the United States by Nazimova, has been credited with having the remarkable foresight that enabled him to see that woman was bound to strive, to develop and to attain ultimately her present place in the general scheme of world affairs.

"Hard Knocks and Love Taps," a Mack Sennett comedy, Pathe News and Topics of the Day complete the bill.

Just one show will be given this evening as Manager William A. Howe has conspired to preview the five-part feature, "The Cuckoo Call" for A. Gilmore Walker, its producer and director.

Bad Eye-Sight National Danger Says Coolidge

BAD eye-sight is as dangerous to the nation as it is to the individual.
Such is the warning in the interest of universal eye conservation just issued by Vice President Coolidge.
The man, whose clear sight read the peril in the Boston police strike and whose firm hand throttled the threatened anarchy, sees the need of mechanical and spiritual vision in America.
"It has been said that trifles make perfection, but perfection is no trifle," Vice President Coolidge states. "This is the standard of present day accomplishment. It is not enough that a person be able to perform a certain operation, it must be well performed."

In Glendale Dr. Cronise has an exclusive optical shop where local people will find it convenient to have their eyes examined. His many years' experience and successful practice in Southern California are a guarantee of Satisfactory Service.

Feel free to call on us for any minor adjustment of your glasses. We'll be glad to serve you.

BRILLIANT SCENES AT MARRIAGE OF PRINCESS MARY

Many Americans in London
Hope to Get Within Abbey,
but Not Permitted

derella-like pageant, resplendent with riotous colors, it was a fete of purple and fine linen, silks, satins and brocades, ermines and furs and flashing jewels, splendid uniforms and flashing weapons all surmounting the gilded coaches which carried the principals and their families.
The route from the palace to the Abbey lay through the Mall, Admiralty Arch, Charing Cross, Whitehall, Parliament Street and Parliament Square to the west door of the Abbey. The streets were lined by thousands of soldiers and police and were banked on both sides by masses of cheering humanity. Buildings were decorated with flags, pictures and flowers, windows, doorways and roof tops were decorated with human faces.
The official colors were blue and silver, but every color of the rainbow dazzled the spectators.

Signal for Start
Pealing church bells and booming cannon signaled the start of the procession from Buckingham Palace, where a group of wounded soldiers who had been allotted space in the fore-court by the king himself, threw their caps into the air and cheered till they were hoarse.

The crowds along the way, many of whom had been standing on the pavements since before daybreak, took up the acclaiming cry and one huge shout rolled for four miles or so all the way along the route to the Abbey.

It was a few minutes after 11 o'clock when Dowager Queen Alexandra, mother of King George and grandmother of the bride, accompanied by her suite of ladies-in-waiting, stepped into a glass and gilt coach and the procession was under way.

All traffic was stopped in the streets traversed by the carriages and the crowds were held back mainly by guards, troops wearing red coats and great bear skin shakos. The dowager queen was followed by another coach bearing Queen Mary, escorted by troops in scarlet coats and silver helmets.

The life guards riding behind the queen's coach were mounted on black chargers, whose harness mountings had been oiled and polished to brilliancy. With the queen was her second son, the Duke of York, wearing the horizon blue uniform of a British aviator.

Riot of Color

Later came carriages bearing Prince Henry in a scarlet uniform of the British army and Prince George in a navy uniform of blue bedecked with gold braid. Other carriages bore handsomely gowned ladies-in-waiting.

It was not until 16 minutes after 1 that a thunder of cheers proclaimed that King George had left the palace in a gold and scarlet uniform of a colonel of the Grenadiers. There were two out-riders flanking the four bays that drew the king's carriage.

The bride rode in a carriage accompanied by her maids. As she passed, men and women cheered, waved handkerchiefs and tossed their hats into the air. The bride smiled upon the crowd and was obviously radiantly happy.

At the Abbey the royal family was met by the dean, gowned in a purple robe with a cape of embroidered gold. The royal family was escorted within the altar rail.

There was a great flutter within the church when Viscount Lascelles, dressed in a blue uniform of the Guards, accompanied by his best man, arrived. He was escorted to a seat within the sacristy to await the coming of the bride.

Escorted by Father

The royal bride was escorted to

TWO SCIONS OF TUDOR KINGS UNITED BY TODAY'S CEREMONY

LONDON, Feb. 28.—Two scions of Henry VII., Tudor King of England, were joined in marriage today.
Princess Mary and her husband, Viscount Lascelles, both trace their ancestry back to King Henry VII. The Princess Mary is fifteen generations distant from the Tudor monarch, but fourteen only if her pedigree had been traced through her mother, Queen Mary, instead of through her father, King George. The Queen is the great-granddaughter of George III., and the King is his great-great-grandson. Lord Lascelles is sixteenth in descent, one generation more distant, from Henry VII.

the altar by her father. She wore the beautiful wedding gown of silver cloth, slightly décolleté and reaching to her ankles. It was overhung with white marquisate, richly embroidered with pearls. It was griddled with a silver cord from which dropped a wreath of orange buds. The train was of silver duchesse satin, draped at the shoulders with Honiton lace, which Queen Mary had worn at her wedding.

Behind Mary came the bridesmaids, three consins and five personal friends. They wore gowns of silver cloth decorated with silver lace and with touches of "merry blue" at the square cut neck. The sleeves were flowing and the girdles were of net veils encircled with wreaths of silver leaves and diamond berries. They carried bouquets of sweet peas.

Just before noon, as the great organ played "Lead us, Heavenly Father, Lead us," the door of the Jerusalem chamber opened and the venerable archbishop of Canterbury, accompanied by the lesser prelates, stepped forth. The archbishop of Canterbury was followed to the altar by the archbishop of York, the bishop of Oxford and the Reverend Canon Maurice Lascelles. The altar was not decorated except for the pale blue and white of the church. There was a hushed silence in the church but the singing in the street was faintly audible. First came the ecclesiastics, then the princess leaning upon the arm of her father.

Awaits His Bride

The queen, wearing a gown of brown lace brocade with velvet and with a corsage gorgeously decorated with blazing jewels, arose as the bride approached.

Viscount Lascelles, accompanied by his best man, had awaited the bride at the high altar. The choristers, scarlet cassocked and white surpliced, had been chanting "God be Merciful," but a silence fell as the party stopped before the altar.

The royal family took their places. The bride and groom, with the bride's parents, the maids, best man and other attendants grouped themselves before the Archbishop.

In a modulated voice the archbishop then read the Episcopal ceremony for royalty, which was not greatly changed from the sixteenth century.

The bride and groom in firm but low voices pledged their vows.

Only those sitting nearby heard the responses of the principals to the clergyman. The archbishop then made a brief address, felicitating the couple and pronouncing his blessing of the church upon them.

The guests did not begin leaving the Abbey until the bride and groom had departed.

U. S. Ambassador Present

The only Americans present were Ambassador Harvey and Mrs. Harvey. Mrs. Harvey wore a gown of soft brown crepe-de-romaine with embroidered paillets of old gold and orange with crepe satin taconnes. Her hat was decorated with osprey feathers.

On the return journey to the palace the carriage taking the bride and groom stopped while a wreath was placed upon the cenotaph—the memorial to the British empire's dead in the great war.

After their return to Buckingham Palace, Princess Mary (she retains her title) and her husband appeared upon the balcony, showing themselves to the waiting crowd.

A wedding breakfast was served at the palace at 1 o'clock with less than 200 guests present. Later in the day the bride and groom departed at Paddington station on their honeymoon.

In our store are two FRUIT CAKES, each
from the same recipe.
One was baked 3 hours
unwatched and is perfect.

The other baked one hour in moderate oven,
and is just right.

No other cooking device can do the same thing with twice the care and gas.

Direct action will do everything the fireless gas range can do and do it with a gentle, DRY, undying heat, with results that are never guessed at.

CAN'T BURN. SOLD ON TERMS.
